

Client Login problems on TG Baynes Web Site

Some users of TG Baynes Client Login facility have experienced problems caused by the privacy settings on their own computer. Since the problem is caused by the user's own computer settings TG Baynes is unable to help resolve individual cases. The following adjustments to the privacy settings have proved beneficial in resolving these problems. Users should satisfy themselves about the adjustment of these setting and if necessary consult their own local computer expertise. (These instructions relate to Internet Explorer 6 and may need to be varied slightly for other versions).

In Internet Explorer select the TOOLS menu

Select Internet Options then on the following screen select the Privacy Tab

Click the "Sites" button – the following screen appears

In Address of Web site enter "tgbaynes.com" (without the quotes) and Click "Allow"
Click OK twice to close the open windows